DEAR FELLOW ROTARIANS

I couldn't be more excited to welcome you to Atlanta and the 108th Rotary International Convention. Not just because the convention will bring Rotarians from around the world to the American Southeast I call home. But also because this year, we're privileged to be celebrating the 100th anniversary of The Rotary Foundation in the city in which it was born.

I can tell you from experience that Atlanta will welcome you with open arms and signature Southern hospitality. And since so many hotels and wonderful attractions are within an easy walk from the convention center, you'll have more time to enjoy all that Atlanta has to offer.

So I invite you to come to Atlanta to learn, to be inspired, to make new friendships and rekindle old ones. And to join Judy and me for the biggest party of the Rotary year — a celebration made all the more special as we mark the centennial of The Rotary Foundation.

Sincerely,

John F. Germ
Rotary International President, 2016-17

THE ROTARY FOUNDATION

CELEBRATING 100 YEARS OF DOING GOOD IN THE WORLD

The Rotary Foundation is turning 100! That's a century of Rotarians improving lives and communities all over the world. And that's definitely something worth celebrating.

Today, our Foundation stands at the forefront of humanitarian service, having transformed millions of lives around the globe. It has supported thousands of projects to fight disease, provide clean water, save mothers and children, boost basic education, grow local economies, promote peace, and eradicate polio worldwide.

A bold vision

One hundred years ago, at the 1917 Rotary Convention in Atlanta, Rotary President Arch Klumph proposed creating an endowment "for the purpose of doing good in the world." From the first contribution of $26.50, the Foundation has grown significantly and has spent more than $3 billion on programs and projects.

Let's celebrate in the city where it all began. We'll look back proudly over a century of "doing good in the world" — and look ahead to the challenges Rotary will tackle in the century to come.

It promises to be the best and biggest party in a hundred years!

WELCOME TO ATLANTA

Atlanta is a gracious, warm-hearted city whose rich history lives on amid the soaring skyscrapers of a modern, thriving metropolis. The greater Atlanta area is home to more than 6 million people and hundreds of attractions that draw visitors from all over the world.

Experience

Atlanta's bustling downtown hosts outstanding family-friendly attractions including the Georgia Aquarium, the World of Coca-Cola, Centennial Olympic Park, the College Football Hall of Fame, and CNN studios — as well as museums, shops, and more, all an easy walk from the convention center and major hotels.

And just a short ride from downtown, you'll find the Atlanta Botanical Garden, the Six Flags Over Georgia theme park, and Stone Mountain Park, featuring the awe-inspiring world's largest bas-relief sculpture.

Passion

The city is affectionately called Hotlanta, not just for its warm summer temperatures but for its energetic nightlife, too. World-class restaurants, major league sporting events, and a pulsing music scene — boasting blues, hip hop, R&B, jazz, soul, country, and more — will give you a host of exciting reasons to stay up late.

Celebration

From Georgia's magnolia blossoms to the historic Fox Theatre, where Rotarians will be treated to a special screening of "Gone With the Wind," all of Atlanta will open its arms to welcome Rotary members from across the globe as they gather for the convention and the centennial celebration of The Rotary Foundation. Y'all come!

Promoting peace

Calling itself the "City of Peace," Atlanta is the proud home of two centers honoring Nobel Peace Prize recipients: the King Center, which celebrates the legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and the Carter Center, established by former U.S. President Jimmy Carter. And the must-see Center for Civil and Human Rights is a quick walk from the convention center.
